CONTACT

Oklahoma City
Main

PRACTICE AREAS

PUBLICATIONS

- SCOTUS Weighs in on Waiver of Right to Arbitrate
- The dark side of permanent daylight saving time
- Regular instruction, maintenance necessary for business cybersecurity
- Return-to-Work Medical Exams: Individualize, Not One Size
- Effective Immediately, Biden Administration Outlaws Mandatory Arbitration of Sexual Harassment Claims
- Three Key Takeaways for Employers from Biden's State of the Union Address
- White House Task Force on Worker Organizing and Empowerment Releases Report with Implications for All Employers
- Double Trouble? What Employers Can Expect from the Five-Year Collaboration Between the Department of Labor and the National Labor Relations Board
- Texas Lawyer: Trade Secrets in Texas: What Qualifies for Protection?
- OSHA Releases COVID-19 Vaccine Emergency Temporary Standard
- Former Continental GC returns to private practice at Phillips Murrah
- Employer Alert: OSHA Emergency Temporary Standard is Imminent
- FinCEN crackdown on shell companies to begin in January
- Continuation of Pandemic-Related Remote Work as an ADA Accommodation: Lessons from the EEOC's First Lawsuit
- Biden orders private companies and healthcare institutions to mandate employee vaccines
- Notice to Oklahoma landlords: The door to residential evictions is now open
- Q&A: Understanding divorce from start to finish
- As Dallas Businesses Scramble to Comply with Murky Mask Mandate, Governor Files Court Challenge
- Texas Small Businesses Beware: New Laws Expand Liability for Sexual Harassment Claims
- OSHA issues COVID-19 Emergency Temporary Standard for healthcare employers
- Employment Law Update: EEOC's Latest Guidance on COVID-19 Vaccines
- E-Discovery in a Post-COVID World
- Oklahoma medical marijuana license holders could face custody issues
- UPDATE: U.S. Dept. of Labor withdraws independent contractor rule
- Gifting in 2021 is a case of 'Use it or lose it'
- Virtual meetings increase public access
- Employer tax considerations for remote work
- Department of Labor announces return of liquidated damages for wage and hour claims
- Phillips Murrah Director Catherine Campbell successfully appeals client's $4.3 million defamation jury verdict
- Understanding tribal legal systems increasingly important