

Phillips Murrah adds two attorneys to Energy group

Dominic D. Williams,
William L. Humes

OKLAHOMA CITY – William L. Humes has joined Phillips Murrah's Energy and Natural Resources team as an of counsel attorney.

Humes brings to his law practice over 21 years of experience serving the citizens of Oklahoma as an Assistant Attorney General in the Oklahoma Attorney General's Office. In his role with the firm, he represents individuals and both publicly-owned and private companies in a wide range of regulatory and public policy matters.

Phillips Murrah also added Dominic D. Williams to the Energy and Natural Resources team as an associate attorney.

Working primarily in Clean Energy, Williams represents privately-held and public companies in a wide range of transactional and civil litigation matters.