BIOGRAPHY

Heath W. Garwood is a civil litigation attorney whose practice encompasses a variety of fields, including oil and natural resource law, commercial insurance defense, complex commercial disputes, and property law. In addition, Heath represents individuals and entities with transactional and general counsel services.

Heath attended the University of Oklahoma College of Law, where he was selected as an Anadarko Petroleum Corporation Scholar, was on the Dean's Honor Roll, and earned an American Jurisprudence award for Wind Energy law. While in law school, he served as Class Secretary in OU Law's Student Bar Association and was an active member in the Oil, Gas, and Natural Resources & Energy Society, the Business Law Society, and the Agricultural Law Society. In addition, Heath studied alternative dispute resolution at the University of Oxford, England.

Prior to attending law school, Heath received a dual bachelor's degree in both Finance and Energy Management from the University of Oklahoma. Throughout his time in undergraduate studies, Heath was employed in various land & title positions within the oil & gas industry.

Heath was born and raised in Tulsa, Oklahoma. He currently lives in Oklahoma City and enjoys Thunder basketball and OU sports. During law school, Heath worked for Levinson, Smith, & Huffman, P.C. in Tulsa, OK, Williams, Box, Forshee & Bullard, P.C. in Oklahoma City, OK, and Lytle Soulé & Felty, P.C. in Oklahoma City, OK. Upon graduation, Heath joined Lytle Soulé & Felty as an associate attorney. Heath joined Phillips Murrah P.C. in the summer of 2022.
